

ABOUT BLOOMSBURG

Bloomsburg University, a member of Pennsylvania's State System of Higher Education, is a four-year coeducational public university founded in 1839. Through the stages of its development from a normal school to a teachers college to a multipurpose state college and finally to a university in 1983, the institution has retained its emphasis on liberal arts and career education.

Bloomsburg is recognized as one of the best 100 public universities in the United States, and excellence, ranging from its 18 national championships to its international reputation in a number of its academic programs, is an attitude found throughout the faculty and staff.

About 90 percent of Bloomsburg's students come from throughout Pennsylvania, creating a diverse mix of cultures and ideas. It's a place where friendships that last a lifetime begin. And it's a busy place — with more than 160 student organizations and activities, NCAA Division II athletic programs and a popular recreation center.

The university's Division of Continuing and Distance Education serves students through nondegree credit courses, noncredit minicourses, off-campus classes, credit for life experience and distance learning courses on public television.

The Town of Bloomsburg, located in the Susquehanna River Valley, has a population of about 12,000 people. The central business district is just three blocks southwest of campus, and includes more than 80 retail stores, restaurants, and the Bloomsburg Fair in September. More stores, restaurants and theaters can be found along nearby Route 11 and at the Columbia Mall, northwest of town.

The university is within a one-hour drive from such cities as Hazleton, Williamsport, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton; 1.5 hours from Harrisburg; 2.5 hours from Philadelphia; 3 hours from New York City and Baltimore; and four hours from Pittsburgh and Washington, DC.

QUICK FACTS

Enrollment— Total enrollment is over 8,040 with an average incoming SAT of 1070 and class rank in the upper 25 percent; Bloomsburg admits one in seven applicants and has a four-year retention rate significantly higher than the national average. About 60 percent are women and 10 percent are non-traditional. About 90 percent of Bloomsburg graduates are quickly placed in their chosen fields.

Faculty— With approximately 1,000 employees, Bloomsburg University has 383 full-time faculty, 70 percent of whom hold doctoral degrees and 72 percent of whom are tenured. The staff is organized into four divisions: Academic Affairs, Administration, Student Life and University Advancement. Governance is through the State System of Higher Education's Board of Governors and through the university's Council of Trustees.

Degrees— Bloomsburg University offers 63 baccalaureate degrees, one associate degree, 19 master's degrees and a joint doctoral degree in elementary education in cooperation with Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Financial Aid— About 70 percent of all students receive some form of financial aid.

School Colors, Mascot— The school colors of Bloomsburg University, originally "lemon and garnet," have been maroon and gold since the 1920s. In the early 1930s, the Husky became the school mascot when a dog owned by a faculty member accompanied Adm Richard E. Byrd on an expedition to the South Pole.

to seven PSAC playoff berths, one undefeated regular season, two PSAC championships and a berth in four NCAA championship tournaments.

During the 2000 season she led the Huskies to the NCAA Division II quarterfinals, while in 1998 she was named the PSAC and NSCAA Mid-Atlantic Regional Coach of the Year. In 2008, Dickson guided the Huskies to 13 wins and a berth in both the PSAC and NCAA playoffs. She is Bloomsburg's all-time leader in coaching wins for women's soccer with a mark of 120-75-23.

Dickson, who was an assistant coach at Bloomsburg for three years before taking over as head coach, is a 1994 graduate of Rutgers University. At Rutgers, she was a four-year member of the women's soccer team, serving as captain during her senior year. As a midfielder, she helped the Scarlet Knights to three Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) titles (1990-92) and a ranking of 13th in the nation in Division I.

As a high school performer, Dickson was named a regional All-American in both 1988 and 1989 and was named the 1989 New Jersey South Midfielder of the Year in addition to all-state honors.

ASSISTANT DAVID SHEMILT/'09 ROSTER

Entering his second season as an assistant coach with the Bloomsburg University women's soccer team is David Robert Shemilt.

A native of Stoke-on-Trent, England, UK, Shemilt came to Bloomsburg after serving one year as Assistant Men's Coach at King's College, Wilkes-Barre, PA. Prior to that he was an assistant coach of the Bloomsburg University men's soccer team.

Shemilt has worked a number of MLS camps as a player development officer/coach within a number of different soccer clubs with stops in Alaska, Connecticut, Chicago, Michigan, San Francisco and San Jose, CA, along with stops in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York. He was involved with coaching recreational, travel, and elite teams while also instructing coaches.

As a player, he competed for six years with Port Vale F.C. in England, playing in the club's school of excellence, then in the Youth Training Scheme (YTS) before embarking on his coaching career. He began his coaching career in England where he became English Football Association (EFA) certified.

He spent six months in Groningen, Holland during an exchange program, studying at The Hanze-hogeschool, a teaching academy for physical education teachers. While there, he coached Oranje Nassau, a semi-professional team in Holland. He also became KNVB certified, the equivalent of NSCAA certification.

He earned a Bachelor of Science (Hons) degree in Sports Science from the University of Worcester, England, in 2004 before completing his Master of Science degree in Sport Science from Indiana University of Pennsylvania in December, 2006. He is currently pursuing another master's degree at Bloomsburg University.

2009 SEASON PREVIEW

The 2009 edition of Bloomsburg University women's soccer brings back a strong foundation of experience and leadership and will look to add several new players into the mix as they compete for a PSAC championship and a berth in the NCAA tournament.

Finishing with a record of 13-6-1, the Huskies qualified for the PSAC and NCAA playoffs in 2008 and after finishing second in the PSAC East with a conference record of 8-3-1. They'll look to use that experience to work towards their goals this season. "Overall our goal is to focus on the details of our game, be prepared and take each game one at a time," said head coach Sandy Dickson. The team had a great spring and has been building on last year's performance. I feel if we can continue to improve and come together we will compete with the best."

To improve on last year's results, the Huskies will rely on eight returning starters, veteran experience and several talented incoming freshmen. The blending of these components will be extremely important right away as the Huskies open against two nationally ranked opponents in C.W. Post and West Chester.

DEFENSE

Sophomore Frances Nicoletti came out of last year's preseason camp as the starter in goal for the Huskies and didn't disappoint during her first year on campus. She played every minute in goal, recording a 1.12 goals against average and six shutouts. Junior Vicky Ziolkowski and sophomore Marissa McDowell both return armed with the confidence to step on the field when called upon.

The backline is again a strong point for the Huskies, as they return a trio of All-PSAC performers in seniors Eileen Alexander, Angela Brown and Kristine Preski. Alexander has helped anchor the defense since her freshman year, earning second team all-conference honors in 2006 and 2007. Brown earned her first All-PSAC selection last year, helping the Huskies limit opponents to just 23 goals scored for the season. They'll be joined by junior Kristine Preski, a two-time first team All-PSAC selection, who also has some offensive skills having scored four goals and to with two assists last season. Seniors Erin Coulahan and Meg Lynch and Cincinnati transfer Aimee Bux add depth and experience to the defense. As a group, their communication is solid and their ability to read the game has developed nicely since the start of camp.

Look for freshmen Caitlyn Raynes and Lauren Stedman to develop this fall. Raynes brings a great deal of good club and high school experience to the Huskies.

MIDFIELD

Senior captain Kelly Modes, a first team All-PSAC selection each of her three years on campus, returns. She is the leading returning scorer for the Huskies, netting seven goals to go along with three assists. The four-year starter can dominate and can change the face of a game with her intensity and desire.

Returning alongside Modes are junior Ali McCrossin and sophomore Katie Walczuk. McCrossin started all 20 games a year ago after playing in five games as a freshman. Walczuk brings back valuable experience as well, appearing in 19 games during her first year, starting nine of them. Together they have developed into a real force in the midfield for the Huskies.

Keep an eye on Kim Turner, a speedy sophomore who will find herself at both the midfield and forward spots.

FORWARDS

Junior Kelsey Stoka is looking to return to action this fall, just four months after surgery due to an amazing rehabbing effort during the summer. Her 13 points last season and crafty play helped earn an All-PSAC East second team selection.

Sophomores Shannon Andersen and Lauren Mento and freshman Alexandra Davis will be battling for time up front for the Huskies.
