Dear Dr. Olszewski:

This letter is formal notification of the action taken by the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN) Board of Commissioners on February 13, 2023. The Commissioners thoroughly reviewed the substantive change report for the baccalaureate and associate nursing program at Lock Haven University of Pennsylvania related to the integration of Lock Haven University, Mansfield University, and Bloomsburg University into one Commonwealth University, which occurred July 1, 2022. Based on this review, and considering the program's outcomes and next accreditation site visit date, the ACEN Board of Commissioners approved the substantive change, which is effective as of February 13, 2023.

Deliberations centered on the substantive change report, supporting documentation, and the recommendation of the Substantive Change Committee. The approved substantive change report and all related documentation will be added to the program's record.

We look forward to continued successes for your nursing program. If you have questions about this action or about ACEN policies and procedures, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Suzette Farmer, PhD, RN
Director
